The combat divisions, which departed from their posts during the second half of April 1953, were confirmed at the troop-training grounds during the second half of May. Training at the troop-training grounds generally started about 15 May. No exercises outside the troop training grounds were observed up to the end of the period under review. Independent special units such as artillery elements, AAA elements, and engineer elements started summer training immediately after arrival at their special training areas until early May 1953 or, if the transfers had been conducted earlier, continued training. The transfer to the area of BERLIN of individual units, which had already been observed in April 1953, was completed during the first half of May. GHQ units of the group were more closely concentrated in the area of WUENSDORF by this regrouping, with the AAA division and the engineer regiment of the Third Gds Mecz Army advancing to the southwestern section of the army area. Some of the elements stationed in the area of Austria and Hungary also started summer training at the troop-training grounds during the second half of April.

Change of Quarters.

2. The regrouping of various troop units, which began in the area of BERLIN in late April, continued and was temporarily completed about 10 May 1953. The occupation in this area was changed by this regrouping as follows:

a. Transfers from KUMERSDORF and PEHAGEN.

To DESSAU-KOCHSTEDT 62d AAA Div [] of the Third Gds 25X1
 Mecz Army from the Artillerie Kaserne at the KUMERSDORF firing range to quarters evacuated by KVP.

To APOLLENSDORF 35th Engr Regt [] of the Third Gds 25X1
 Mecz Army from the barracks installation on Schumke Lake to quarters vacated by the KVP.

To ALTRUEDERSDOFF One medium AAA regiment of the 2d Gds AAA Div from the Eisenbahnponier Kaserne to new barracks installations.

b. Transfers to KUMERSDORF and PEHAGEN.

From the WILDPARK-WEST Elements of the 56th Motor Trans Regt of barracks installation, the GOFG to the Artillerie Kaserne POTSDAM at the KUMERSDORF firing range.

From the GOLF barracks A repair shop of the GOFG to the Artillerie installation, POTSDAM Kaserne at the KUMERSDORF firing range.

From the GOLF barracks An unidentified signal unit of the GOFG installation, POTSDAM to the barracks installation on Schumke Lake.

These changes may have been made with a view to withdrawing units of the GOFG from POTSDAM to make available quarters for the KVP, which, favoring this assumption, actually occupied the barracks installation in GOLF in the course of May. Another report, on the other hand, indicated that the telephone installations in the area of POTSDAM were to be brought to a capacity equivalent to requirements of SCC offices scheduled to move from PERLIN-KAPLSHORST to POTSDAM. In this connection, attention may again be called to the construction projects in the area of ZOSSEN, which involve the reconditioning of the south section of Camp ZOSSEN and Camp MAYBACH I. Upon completion of these new constructions and the connecting-up of the telephone lines, new transfers of elements and offices may, therefore, be expected. Following are facts which deserve attention:

- (1) The 62d AAA Div [] and the 35th Engr Regt of the Third Gds Mecz Army advanced about 80 km. farther westward to the area of WITTENBERG-DESSAU. It cannot yet be decided whether the transfer of the engineer regiment was final or is made only to utilize training possibilities on the Elbe River during the summer months. A major detail of the 138th Gds Sig Regt [] of the Third Gds Mecz Army was observed stationed in the Harz Jugendheim in Quedlinburg in mid-April 1953 and, on 15 May, a construction squad of this regiment was seen constructing telephone lines at the Albrecht-der-Faer Kaserne in STENDAL. 25X1
 - (2) The 2d Gds AAA Div is responsible for the AAA protection of the headquarters of the GOFG, with one medium and one light AAA regiment alternately committed after the transfer of the group headquarters from POTSDAM to WUENSDORF-ZOSSEN. The division headquarters and two additional AAA regiments, a medium and a light one, were previously stationed at the Eisentahnpionier Kaserne in REFAGEN. The transfer to ALTRUEDERSDORF of a medium AAA regiment supports the assumption, which has long been put forth here, that the Reden tunnel in the vicinity of ALTRUEDERSDORF may be scheduled to serve as quarters of combat echelons of the group headquarters, with this regiment providing AAA protection for this installation.
3. The following additional changes of quarters were observed or are expected:
- a. One signal unit and one engineer unit moved to the eastern section of the Fuchsberg Kaserne in JUETERFOG in mid-May 1953. The motor-vehicle numbers reported in connection with these troop movements were observed for the first time in East Germany. Although no mistakes in reading the numbers have so far been noticed, there is still the possibility that the units were units of the 6th Gds Tank Div in WITTENBERG. It could not yet definitely be determined to which place the 148th Engr Bn [] of the 14th Gds Mecz Div, which had previously been stationed there until April 1953, had moved. Motor vehicles of the division, which appeared at the new troop-training grounds at TAUER, favor, however, the assumption that the battalion was employed there for construction work. 25X1
 - b. In mid-May 1953, the Panzerjaeger Kaserne in SPITTEBERG was handed over to, and occupied by, the KVP. The 80th Gds Hv Tank SF Regt of the 6th Mecz Div was previously stationed there. There is still the possibility that the two barracks installations in LEISNIG, which previously quartered two units of the 8th Mecz Div, will be turned over to the KVP.
 - c. Construction work, which is under way for the Soviets at the restricted Weisse Stadt area in ORANIENBURG, tends to indicate that, upon completion of the summer training, the post will probably be occupied further by units of the 25th Tank Div.

4. Training.

The 16 combat divisions, which had moved to the troop training grounds in April 1953, started combat training as late as mid-May, after they had prepared their quarters. The location of the individual units, which had become visible to some extent immediately after their arrival, could repeatedly be confirmed in May.¹ Available information covering the period under review tends to indicate that the unit concentrated primarily on squad or company training except for a several-hour exercise which, on 16 May, had been conducted by the tank regiment of the 57th Gds Mtz Rifle Div at the KINDEL troop training grounds and which involved about 500 infantrymen.

Another exception was an exercise conducted by units of the IV Arty Corps in the northwest section of LETZLING HEATH from 6 to 13 May which probably also involved elements of the 207th Mtz Rifle Div and the 3d Gds AAA Div. Its problem could not be determined. The troops of the IV Arty Corps came from and, upon completion of the exercise, returned to, RATHENOW and ALTENGRABOW. The six combat divisions including the army troops of the Second Gds Mecz Army, which remained at their posts, utilized for summer training post training grounds and other areas in the vicinity of their posts as they had done in the preceding years.

The construction work at the FORST TAUER troop training grounds continued in May. It is expected that officers' billets and administrative buildings will soon be completed. The construction of the buildings primarily involves units of the 9th Mecz Div stationed there. It is possible that the engineer battalion of the 14th Gds Mecz Div in JUETER-FOG may also be employed. It could not be determined whether rotor vehicles of the Third Shock Army observed during the first half of May were also connected with the construction work.

5. Special Training.a. Artillery.

Units of the IV Arty Corps assembled at ALTENGRABOW since late April 1953 included:

from RATHENOW:	the 18th How Arty Brig	[]	25X1
	the 65th Mort Brig	[]	25X1
	the 10th How Arty Brig	[]	25X1
		permanently stationed there from POTSDAM:	the 148th Gun Arty Brig	[]	25X1
	the U/1 Gun Arty Brig.	[]

A battery of the 124th Hv How Arty Brig [] from BRANDENBURG was at the training grounds from 18 to 23 May. Other units which can rather safely be assumed at ALTENGRABOW included:

the 20th Army AT Arty Brig [] from BRANDENBURG after 15 April; 25X1

the 43d Army Arty Brig of the Eighth Gds Army from ALTENBURG after about 23 April;

the 44th Army Arty Brig of the Third Shock Army, permanently stationed there;

elements of the 304th Arty Brig [] from BURG after 4 May; 25X1 elements of the 31st AAA Div from SCHOENWALDE after 7 May;

artillery or AAA units of the 9th Gds Tank Div from NEUSTRELITZ after 10 May;

elements of the 3d Gds AT Arty Brig of the IV Arty Corps from ROSTOCK.

b. AAA Artillery.

In May 1953, elements of eight AAA divisions could be carried at the WUSTROW firing range, where they had arrived as early as March and April. Other units indicated in addition to these units by reports on transportation as stationed at the WUSTROW firing range included elements of the unidentified AAA regiment of the LXXIX Mtz Rifle Corps from BURG after 5 May; an AAA unit of the air force from FINSTERWALDE after 10 May; and an AAA unit of the air force from WELZOW prior to 14 May. Available information tends to indicate that only medium AAA units conducted firing with live ammunition at WUSTROW.

In late April 1953, elements of the 6th Gds AAA Div [] from CHEMNITZ were transferred to, and confirmed at, the KOENIGSPFUTCK troop training grounds, where the division also conducted firing practices in 1952. On 8 May, an AAA unit of the air force from PRANDIS moved to the JUETERBOG training grounds. This training grounds, as is known, is utilized for firing with live ammunition in addition to RL units by light AAA units. The light units of the 32d AAA Div [] which, in late March, had been transferred from KUESTRIN and FRANKFURT/Oder to JUETERBOG, were presumably still in the JUETERBOG area in May 1953.

c. Engineer Units.

Engineer units of the group, the army and the corps were generally transported to water training sites on the Elbe River since mid-April 1953. The division engineer battalions, along with their divisions, had first transferred to the troop training grounds.

In early May, Camp FITTKAU presumably was occupied by the 15th Gds Engr Bn of the Third Shock Army from EAREY, the 890th Engr Bn of the LXXIX Mtz Rifle Corps from GARDELGEN and an engineer unit from the area of the IX Mtz Rifle Corps. No exercises on the Elbe River have, however, been observed there. Engineer units assembled in the DESSAU-AKEN area included the 36th Pan Bridge Regt of the GOFG from MAGDEBURG in the LUKO area after about 10 April; an U/1 Engr Regt of the GOFG from BIELEBURG in the area east of AKEN after mid-April; and the 19th Gds Engr Bn and the two corps engineer battalions of the Eighth Gds Army in the area east of AKEN after 20 April.

On 28 May, a division engineer battalion of the Eighth Gds Army possibly transferred to DESSAU. In late April, the units had already engaged in the construction of ferries and had started building bridges on the south bank to the Elbe River, west of DESSAU. On 12 May, elements of the 36th Pan Bridge Regt built a bridge of steel sections across the Elbe River at the autobahn bridge, east of DESSAU.

In early May, the 35th Engr Regt [] of the Third Gds Mech Army moved to APOLLENSDORF west of WITTENBERG. It is believed that this regiment, which previously conducted water training on the north bank of the Elbe River east of WITTENBERG, exploited local training possibilities from its new quarters. No other engineer units of the army have so far been observed in this area. Nor can their arrival generally be expected until the completion of the most urgent construction work at the new FORST TAUER training grounds. Although no information is available, it may be assumed that the engineer units of the First Gds Mech Army again assembled on the Elbe River south of MUEHLFELD, as they had done in 1952.

Miscellaneous.

6. In early May 1953, the units of the MEININGEN and WISMAR military posts were absent from their quarters. Local residents stated that the three regiments previously stationed there had been transferred to the zonal border. This information could not be confirmed so far. Available information, however, tended to indicate that the transfer was made only temporarily and that at the same time the absence from the post was used for exercises.

Transportation.

7. The operational situation of the East German railroads eased slightly during the month under review, because the transportation space claimed by the Soviet occupation forces dropped to a normal level after troop units had been moved to their summer training areas by late April.
8. As in the preceding month, coal stocks amounted to 9.8 days' requirements, which represents about 60 percent of normal coal stocks. For May, the daily coal consumption quota was fixed at 17,700 metric tons.
9. Border traffic across the Oder-Neisse line and the border with Czechoslovakia was normal. In detail, the following observations were made:
 - a. Tanks continued to be shipped from the USSR to East Germany. It could not be determined whether the tanks involved were new equipment or had only undergone general repair. See also paragraph 12 below.
 - b. Shipments of individual aircraft continued to arrive from the USSR.
 - c. Grain and ore shipments from the USSR and crude oil deliveries from Austria were on the same level as observed in preceding month.
 - d. Coal imports from Poland decreased slightly.
 - e. Sizeable bauxite imports from Hungary were reported for the first time.
 - f. Uranium ore and fuel deliveries to the USSR continued at the previous level.
10. Noteworthy railroad construction projects in process of execution include:
 - a. The construction of railroad check points was completed by 17 May, when the summer timetable went into effect. However, the BERLIN elevated train system has not yet been disrupted. The elevated trains carrying gainfully employed persons from POTSDAM to East BERLIN in the morning and evening hours no longer stop in West BERLIN.
 - b. The reconstruction of the Oder River bridge near ZASCHERICK/NEURUEDNITZ was declared a priority project. In early May, all preparations for a beginning of construction work proper were completed.
 - c. In mid-May, work was started on the reconstruction of the dismantled GRANSEE-WOLTERSDORF railroad line. The line will also serve the newly established KVK ammunition depot at KOENIGSTAEDT.

25X1.

- d. The newly constructed connecting curve near HORKA was opened to traffic on 15 May 1953.

11. General Information.

- a. In April 1953, a total of 275 locomotives were repaired at railroad repair shops. This output represents only 86 percent of the production quota fixed. The non-fulfillment of target figures was probably caused by a shortage of materials.
- b. The following highway bridges over the Oder and Neisse Rivers will be jointly reconstructed by East German and Polish authorities, or are already under construction:
- (1) Bridge over the Oder River at GRIFENLAGEN/MESCHERIN. The bridge will be reconstructed as a steel truss structure; the old piers will be utilized.
 - (2) Bridge over the Oder River in SCHWEDT. The structure will be a reinforced concrete arch bridge with four openings as against three in the old bridge. Construction work was started in April 1953.
 - (3) Autobahn bridge over the Neisse River near KLEIN EADENEUSEL. Construction work is scheduled to be completed in late June 1953. The new bridge will replace a temporary structure previously erected there.
 - (4) Bridge over the Oder River at HONENWUTZEN. Work on the design of the bridge, a steel truss structure with a roadway 7.2 meters wide, has been started.
 - (5) Bridge over the Neisse River at GUPEN. Four piers of the structure have been completed. The bridge is scheduled to be opened to traffic in late 1953.
 - (6) Bridge over the Neisse River at MUSKAU. Surveying for the new bridge has been started and the bridge debris were cleared.

Supply.

12. Although supply traffic through East German border stations was covered incompletely, it can be stated that the flow of supply from the USSR to East Germany continued to be light in April and May 1953, keeping at about the same level as during the first quarter of the year. Noteworthy are, however, the shipments of approximately 125 medium and heavy tanks and 45 armored scout cars. The remarkable feature in this traffic was that the tanks were not consigned to troop units, but mostly to the large tank repair shops at WUENSDORF and KIRCHENBERG. It is, therefore, not clear whether the tanks were new and additional equipment or whether they had undergone general overhaul in the USSR and were only to be checked in the tank repair shops before being delivered to troop units. No shipments of tanks from East Germany to the USSR were observed in preceding months. On 22 May, 29 model M-13 rocket launchers were sent to KOENIGSPRUECK. Intrazonal supply traffic was normal during the period under review.

14. The cadre units stationed in SCHWETRIN/STERNBUCHHOLZ, BRANDENBURG/HOHENSTUECKEN, PUTZ, DESSAU/KOCHESTEDT, HALLE, WEISSFELS, and ERFURT were subdivided and elements were transferred. The tank elements of these units were assembled in PUTZ, the artillery elements were assembled in GLOFWEN and part of the infantry elements were assembled in POSTOCK. Some of the headquarters, infantry elements, and special weapons of these units are still stationed at their previous posts. A number of signal units may have moved to KLIETZ and some engineer units may have gone to HALLE. These measures may serve the purpose of:

- a. Blending the tank, artillery, and infantry cadres of these units into larger units.
- b. Executing special training at about regimental level.
- c. Making preparations for the activation of new divisions in about the fall of 1953.

15. The barracks installation in SPITTLERG which had previously been occupied by Soviet troops was vacated for, and was reoccupied by, KVP units, which came from Saxony or, allegedly, from the direction of BERLIN.

Assignments.

16. Prior to February 1953, each of the three cadre army groups (TV 3,000, TV 5,000 and TV 6,000) was assigned six cadre units. The command areas of these three army groups are not definitely clear at present as a result of the transfers made since February 1953. The assignments in the area of Armeegruppe Nord remained unchanged, however.

Training in Austria.

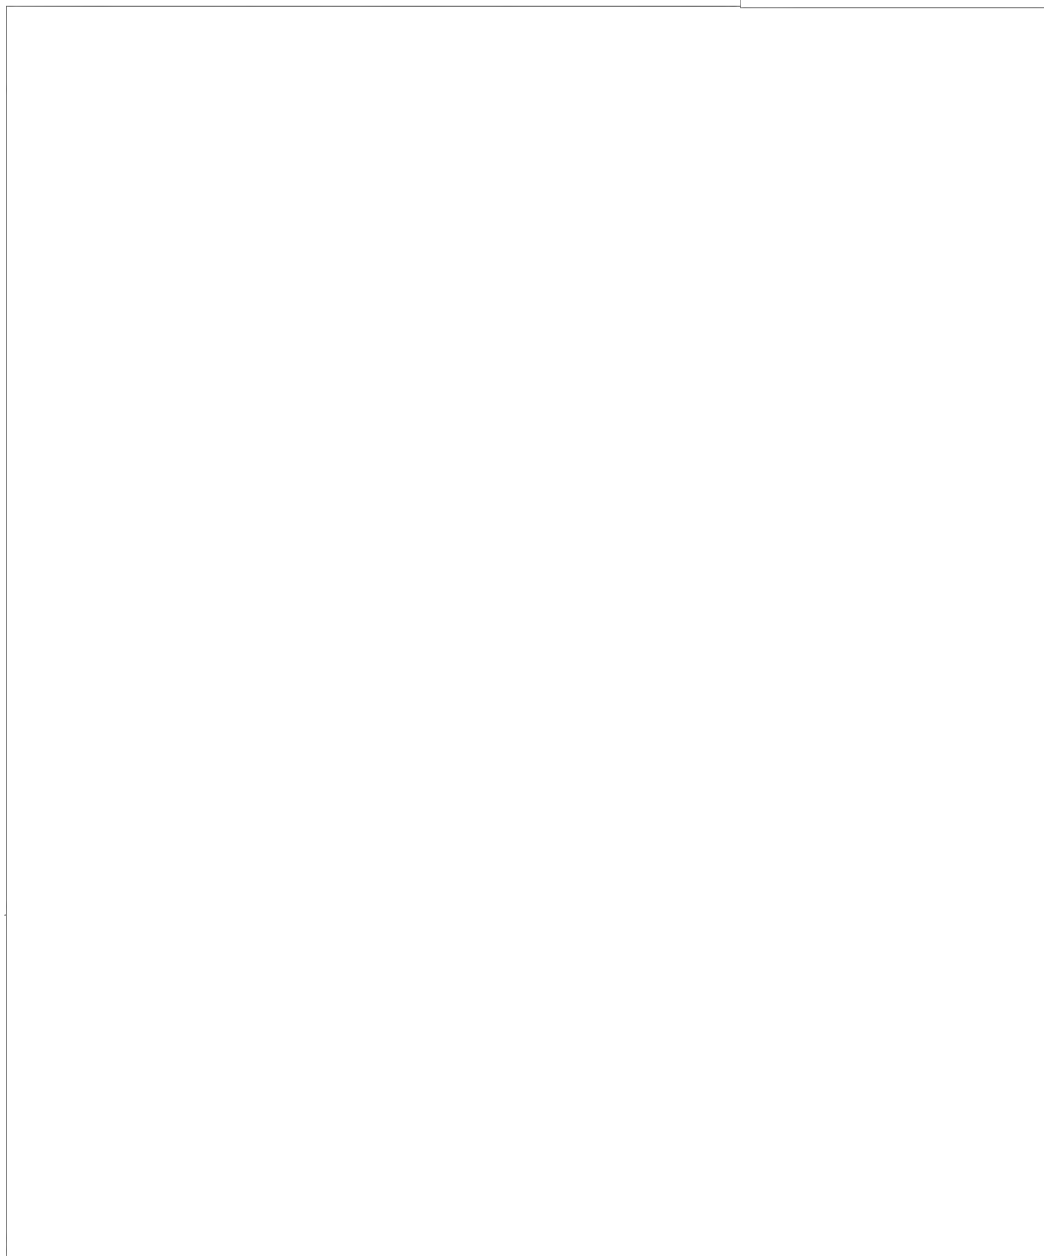

18. Essential elements of the 13th Gds Mecz Div and the 95th Gds Mtz Rifle Div transferred from their posts from mid-April to early May 1953, probably to summer camps at the DOELIERSHEIM troop-training grounds. On 15 April, units stationed in FRUCK on the Leitha River, probably elements of the 15th Tank Regt, were transported to GOEPFRITZ, which is the unloading station of the DOELIERSHEIM troop training grounds. Prior to 23 April, AT and tank units stationed in ST. POELTEN and KLOSTERNEUFURG, which are posts of the 95th Gds Mtz Rifle Div and the 13th Gds Mecz Div, were reportedly unloaded in GOEPFRITZ. Other shipments, which partly included AT equipment, were observed proceeding toward GOEPFRITZ on 24 April. Elements of the 233d Gds Gun Arty Regt were entrained in MELK on 6 May. Observations at the posts indicated that, from 8 to 13 May, the barracks installations in St POELTEN, VIENNA, GOETZENDORF, and KAISERSTEINFRUCK quartered no troops, except for guard details, or were only lightly occupied. Information from Hungary also indicated that elements of the Soviet units stationed there probably transferred to summer camps. In mid-May, AAA units of the 95th Gds Mtz Rifle Div, probably the 997th AAA Bn of the 95th Gds Mtz Rifle Div, and AAA units from Hungary, possibly the 2d Gds Mecz Div, were at the APETLON AAA firing range for firing practices.
